

HSRV 231
Addiction Treatment

1. Students will recognize the potential for substance use to mimic or exacerbate a variety of medical and psychological disorders that co-exist with addiction and substance abuse.
2. Students will demonstrate an understanding of the stages of the counseling process.
3. Students will demonstrate basic competency in interviewing, screening, evaluation, and assessment.
4. Students will demonstrate basic competency in documentation and treatment planning
5. Students will demonstrate basic competency in case management and the referral process.